

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
111 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Maria Macias
18545 S. Ave L
Chicago, IL 60647

Re: Comments on Release Reported by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the release process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
111 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Este Fani Acosta
101534 S. Ave L
Chicago, IL 60647

Re: Comments on Release Reported by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the release process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Craig Cleve (CPS Teacher)
2458 8th Ave
N. Riverside, IL

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Craig Cleve
_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Drew Heiser
3311 N. Drake
CHICAGO, IL 60618

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Tammie Vinson
5360 W. Washington
Chicago, IL 60644

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

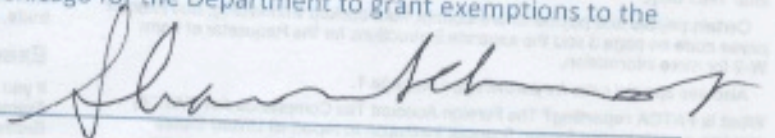

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Sharon Schmidt
5132 W Bertram
Chicago IL 60641

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Margo Murray
8406 S. Vernon Ave.
Chicago, Illinois 60619

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Sincerely,
Margo Murray

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Maria T. Moreno
6339 S. Richmond St
Chicago IL 60629

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Sincerely,
Maria T. Moreno

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: M. ANDERSON
813 E 47 PLACE
CHICAGO, ILL 60615

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Debby Lope
1736 W Rescher
Chicago IL 60640

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

It's outrageous. All kids deserve clean air!

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Sharon West
2114 E 83RD
Chgo IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Dave Vance
8724 S. Baltimore
Ch. IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Sharon West
2114 E 83RD
Chgo IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Dave Vance
8724 S. Baltimore
Ch. IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Martin Mendoza
10545 S. ave L
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Celestino Macias
10543 S ave L
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: YASMINE VELAZQUEZ
Ave M 10311 10311 S Ave M
Chicago, IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

I don't like just coke because my child is affected by it and I love her.

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Nancy Macias
10543 S. Ave L
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

This refinery causes pollution no doubt about it. Now that pollution is not just affecting our planet it's also affecting people who are ill with things asthma or cancer and I have asthma.

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Sue Sebesta
2011 W. Chase
Chicago, IL 60645

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Health of our citizens should be priority #1.

Sue Sebesta

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Kirstin Roberts
4836 W. Warwick
Chicago, IL 60641

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

KL Roberts

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: MARIA Macias
10543 S. Ave L
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Estefani Acosta
10539 S. Ave L
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Yolanda Thompson
8427 S. Euclid
Chicago, IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Ban Petroco because polluting and ~~pois~~ poisoning our water and our air is never a good idea.

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: LISA LEVY Jai Jai
3021 W. COLLOR
CHICAGO, IL 60618

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Elena Sakopoulos 707-815 3917
5432 S. Harper Ave esakopoulos@
Chicago IL 60615 gmail.com

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Nathan Rasmussen
5739 N. Virginia
Chicago, IL 60659

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: CATHALINE CARTER
8905 S. BENNETT
Chicago, IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

SPONSORED BY: Southeast Environmental Task Force (773) 646-0435 and Southeast Side Coalition to Ban Pesticide (773) 717-4555

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Caitlin Sheehan
1409 W Greenleaf, #115
Chicago, IL 60626

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Francine Greenberg-Reizen
4945 N. Bell #1
Chicago IL 60625.

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Please protect the health of the community and do not issue the variance!

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Sandra Stone
1601 W Greenleaf
Chicago, IL 60626

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

Sandra R Stone

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: GEORGIA WALLER
4334 N. HAZEL
Chgo IL 60613

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

THESE are companies that are not interested in the well being of the people that live in these areas. If they lived there I'm sure they wouldn't tolerate this to take place and affect their families, THIS IS ALL ABOUT MONEY!!!

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Susan Zupan
Taylor School
773-238-0738 (hm)

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Gina Holloway
8638 So. Euclid
Chgo. IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: KATIE OSGOOD
1701 W 21st ST APT 2R
CHICAGO IL

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

PROTECT THE CITIZENS OF THIS CITY!

---

---

Katie Osgood

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: _____

STEVE GREENMAN

2534 E 109 St

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Miguel Soteno

10846 S. Green Bay Ave

Chicago, IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

_____
_____
_____

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Cesar Padilla
10958 S Greenbay
Chicago IL

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

No Pet Coke

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Jesus Arce
13239 S. Green Bay
Chgo, IL 60637

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: DAVID SENTENO
13219 S. AVE L
CHGO IL 60633

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Juan Huerfano
10446 S Ave L
Chicago, IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Janie Cervera
13239 S. Green Bay
Chgo, IL 60633

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

---

---

---

---

To: Chicago Department of Public Health
Environmental Permitting and Inspections
333 South State Street, Room 200
Chicago, IL 60604

From: Arturo Senteno
10956 So. Green Bay Ave
Chicago IL 60617

Re: Comments on Variance Requested by Companies Handling and Storage of Bulk Material Piles

I fundamentally oppose the variance process and believe that health of the citizens should be the highest priority of the department. The regulations are already too lax and contain too many loopholes. It is not in the best interest of the residents of Chicago for the Department to grant exemptions to the minimal regulations that they have in place.

PLEASE DENY KCBX ANY VARIANCE TO OR DIAPANCE IN PLACE. IN THE INTEREST OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH OF THE COMMUNITY.
THANK YOU